WELCOME

The FNM 2024 local organizing committee, in collaboration with the Asian Neurogastroenterology and Motility Association and the Center of Excellence in Neurogastroenterology and Motility at Chulalongkorn University, are excited to announce the upcoming FNM 2024 conference in Bangkok, Thailand. The conference will be a platform for clinicians, researchers, and professionals from all over the world to exchange knowledge and advancements in the field of neurogastroenterology and motility. More than 100 distinguished speakers will be presenting their latest findings and research in basic, translational, and clinical aspects of the field, making FNM2024 a truly innovative and boundary-pushing event.

Bangkok, the vibrant and modern city of contrasts, will be an excellent host for this conference. Currently, visitors will not be required to present Covid-19 related documents like vaccination certificates or Covid-19 test results upon arrival, making it easier for attendees to travel to this beautiful country. Attendees will also have the opportunity to explore the city's rich culture, savor exquisite cuisines, and enjoy famous street foods.

FNM2024 Bangkok Thailand is the perfect opportunity to gain insight into the latest advancements in neurogastroenterology and motility while experiencing the unique culture and cuisine of Thailand. So, mark your calendars and get ready to be part of this exciting event.

Professor Sutep Gonlachanvit
Chair, FNM 2024 local organizing committee
Director, Center of Excellence in Neurogastroenterology and Motility,

FNM 2024

ABOUT FNM MEETING

The Federation of Neurogastroenterology and Motility (FNM) was established through the visionary collaboration of three leading organizations in the neurogastroenterology and Motility field, the American Neurogastroenterology and Motility Society (ANMS), the European Society of Neurogastroenterology and Motility (ESNM), and the Asian Neurogastroenterology and Motility Association (ANMA) which recognized the need for a unified voice to promote awareness and advance research on diseases of gut-brain interaction.

These 3 organizations joined the FNM as a full Federation member in 2013, followed by the Australasian Neurogastroenterology & Motility Association (ANGMA) and the Sociedad Latinoamericana de Neurogastroenterología (SLNG) as associated members. This diverse membership base reflects the FNM's commitment to embracing different perspectives and approaches to understanding and addressing the challenges in this field while fostering international collaborations and partnerships.

Beginning in 2014

the biennial FNM meeting is an event that members anticipate with great enthusiasm, as it provides a platform for knowledge exchange and networking. By bringing together researchers and clinicians from around the world, the FNM meeting offers a unique opportunity to enhance our comprehension of the complex connections between the nervous and digestive systems and to create innovative strategies for the diagnosis and treatment of these multifaceted conditions. Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, the 5th FNM meeting was postponed from 2022 to 2024.

The upcoming FNM 2024 meeting in Bangkok, Thailand, is expected to be a captivating and informative event, with a rich program of activities and opportunities for learning and collaboration. The meeting will feature three symposia that will delve into the fascinating topic of how diet and gut microbiota influence the pathogenesis and management of diseases of gut-brain interaction. In addition, over 20 parallel sessions will cover various topics, from basic science research to clinical practice, providing a comprehensive and up-to-date overview of the latest advances in the field.

WHY SPONSOR AND EXHIBIT FNM 2024

FNM meeting is the world's premier conference bringing together over 1,000 physicians, researchers, and academics in the fields of neurogastroenterology and motility.

Attendees come with a keen interest in accessing cutting-edge research, gaining valuable insights, and discovering innovative solutions. At FNM meeting, you'll have the unparalleled opportunity to interact with key decision-makers across all sectors of the industry, whether you're seeking to establish new connections or cultivate existing ones. Additionally, FNM's online directory allows you to reach a wider audience by connecting with online participants in tandem with the in-person event.

PROGRAM OVERVIEW

FNM2024 scientific program will include a mixture of keynote lectures, lively discussions/debate, and research presentations. The Exhibition Hall will be a focal meeting point; providing a place for delegates to meet and sponsors and exhibitors to showcase their business. The Welcome Reception, daily lunch, morning and afternoon tea breaks, and meeting posters will be held/displayed in the Exhibition Hall, allowing Exhibitors a generous amount of time over the 3 days of the meeting to network. Further details will be released as we approach the event. For further details please visit the meeting website at www.fnm2024.com.
